TRAPPER BEATEN BY TWO LONG SHOTS

Hot Favorite in Two-Year Old Feature Is Never Able to Keep Up With Leaders.

DE RESZKE BEATS GAY BOY.

Two Eastern Handfcap Horses Have the Second Race Between Them-Au Revoir Gallops Over Careless.

New Orleans, La., Dec. 19-That Trapper is a long way from invincible was proven to-day, when he succumbed to Kittle Platt and Moorish Damsel. Kittle Platt, who won the race, is more than a fair sort of mare. She was a nice horse in the East and has gradually improved since she began racing here. She was carrying but 100 pounds to 118 on Snyder's Derby candidate to-day, and Master Phillips did not ride nearly so well-judged a race on Trapper as had been expected, and as defeat can be understood. Trapper was No. 1 on the programme and, while the going was better to-day than it has been in a couple of weeks, it was still a disadvantage to be on the inside. Trapper was moored in the worst going, and, being rather a slow beginner going, and, being rather a glow beginner at best, he was beaten before an eighth of a mile had been run. The best of going had been taken by the shorter-striding horses and he had to be content with what was left. That was poor indeed and helped materially to bring about his defeat. He came stoutly enough at the end. feat. He came stoutly enough at the end, but could never get up, and even lost the place to Moorish Damsel, who can a most remarkably good race, considering her form as developed in her previous starts. DB RESEKET SLOW TIME.

The real feature of the day's racing was the victory of De Reszke in the second race. De Reszke was the favorite, though quite a lot of sarguine people played the other Eastern nominee, Gay Boy, who looked like the contender. Gay Boy was a fair sort of horse in the East, yet in a helf mile De Reszke and Jake Greenberg outran him something over a dozen lengths. From a time standpoint the race was miserable, and, taken in comparison with Autolight's showing in the last race. would make Autolight and even Arab, who finished second to him, look like oddson choices over either De Reszke or Gay con choices over either De Reszke or Gay Boy, should they meet at even weights. Yet it would be really foolish to play Arab to best either, because, should they meet in a race, Arab would never know where the two went unless someone told him about it. The first race was easy for Jake San-des after Pawtucket, the apparent con-tender, had thrown his rider at the start.

AU REVOIR BEATS CARELESS. With De Reszke and Ram's Horn withdrawn from the fourth, speculation rested between Au Revoir and Careless. Au Rebetween Au Revoir and Careless. Au Revoir was never in danger and won easily. The best finish of the day came in the fifth race, seven horses finishing heads apart. George Perry, neglected at 40 to 1, won by a nose from Glendon, at 25 to 1. Swiftwing, the favorite, off badly and seriously interfered with, was fourth beat-not three noses. Autolight, even-money favorite in the last, was an easy winner from Arab.

Immediately after Salivan had defeated Jim Elliott at Washington Park, N. Y. in 182. Tug Wilson, who challed a right to challenge any man for the heavy-weight little of the world, reached New York, and accepted an effer from Sullivan to light under Queensbury rules and to take 12,00 if he lasted four founds.

The hout was pulled off July 17, and one of the largest crowds that had attended a puglistle contest in New York up to that time turned out. It was impossible to gain cutrance to the building an hour or two after the doors were opened, and the money in the house was considered wenderful for those days.

Sullivan was three linches taker and display. Nelson

For Wednewlay I have something up my eleve for two naces that means the probable landing of a li-to-t shot in one race and to I in another. They have been silveed into their respective races because conditions are in their favor. Both are in grand form.

For Thursday I have one that I know about and which I consider almost in I was never unde confident of a borse winning. Han this one if he is as good as to I at the opening I will be well satisfied, as his price will be rounded down in a jiffy. For Friday something doing that will surrorse the talout. A hot 'un has been specially security for this occasion, having worked years come in his workerts, has the speed and stamina and outsit to win at 12 to 1 or helder. Also see their that is coming around in grant come and outsit to win at 12 to 1 or helder. Odder slated against this trick should day. Odder slated against this trick should
